—Known Problems—
1. Performance issue with loading images
2. If you add a recipe from the discover page, everything about that recipe gets copied into a new recipe EXCEPT for the image.
3. iOS and Android compatible EXCEPT mostly focused testing on iOS so there might be unknown issues with Android
4. Everything is in grams (no other units of measurement)
5. Some styles we are using (e.g. for buttons) don't center properly on all devices
6. Most text styles can have unexpected outcomes when the text contains a lot of characters
7. No regulation/censor on what recipe is added to Discover (basically a reddit recipe page)
8. If you like a recipe, log out, log back in, and find the recipe again on Discover, it will not know if you have liked it previously (your like is counted but not whether you were the one who liked it)

—Product Backlog—
1. As a user, I want to specify the unit of measurement for my ingredients
2. As a user, I want to search for specific recipes
3. As a user, I want to add tags (vegetarian, breakfast, gluten-free, etc.) to recipes
4. As a user, I want to filter recipes by specific tags
5. As a user, I want to share my recipes with other users directly
